

CRDF Global

Business Travel Accident Insurance Summary of Benefits

CRDF Global provides emergency business travel accident (BTA) insurance for international travel through AIG during travel dates. Should you need to seek medical attention, International SOS is your first point of contact (see contact numbers below). Their doctors, security experts and assistance coordinators will be able to provide any recommendations/advice, offer names of accredited facilities/doctors, schedule a medical appointment on your behalf, etc.

International SOS has access to CRDF Global's policy and will communicate with AIG on your behalf, submit any claims, and coordinate as necessary with CRDF Global personnel.

The summary of benefits for covered expenses include:

- Supplemental out of country accident & sickness medical expense coverage
- Medically necessary services of a physician or nurse, ambulance, laboratory tests, radiological procedures, anesthetics, blood & blood transfusions, physical therapy & occupational therapy, rental of medical equipment and prescriptions
- Acute onset of pre-existing conditions
- Identify theft assistance
- Accidental death
- Accidental dismemberment and paralysis
- Repatriations of remains

As a reminder, CRDF Global's BTA policy does not cover any family members traveling with a CRDF Global supported traveler. CRDF Global strongly recommends that you purchase personal travel insurance for these individuals. You can access more information about personal travel coverage here.

If you have any questions, please contact your CRDF Global travel and events manager.

Contact an International SOS Assistance Center at any time if you have any questions about the program, International SOS benefits, or the services available to you.

Although members can contact any International SOS Assistance Center at any time, we recommend that you contact the closest lead Assistance Center in case you need emergency medical information once you are stabilized. As a general guideline, International SOS recommends:
